Gen 1:26 And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

We have to discuss this comment because it is perhaps more a suggestion to a strategy than a comment relative to an observation. So this aspect is perhaps observing us, people, and is considering what it should do to deal with the observed situation. Perhaps like if there is a war and you see your enemy has fixed fortifications and so you suggest "lets use the air force to bomb them." Thus perhaps it is a decision relative to strategy rather than anything else. So this aspect see's us, people, and then decides on a strategy. It also perhaps suggests a fatal flaw in the strategy. Let's make him like us, also means if this aspect made us like it, then to defeat it we simply have to not be like we are. this is perhaps what the comment "peace on earth" is all about. This aspect is a militant and thus the answer is peace to defeat it. Of course if one suggests peace then said aspect would see that is a threat to its strategy.

X = war strategy

Y = Peace strategy

Z = Will power/ Ability to compete

A = Outcome

$X(Z) + Y(Z) = A$

So perhaps the more war there is, the more the " God said, Let us make man in our image" aspect is winning , and perhaps the more peace there is the more (man in our image) is winning. Of course one thing to perhaps consider is that "man" in general does go to war with Man in general before this (Let us) aspect ever arrived perhaps. So if someone says absolute peace then in theory they would be (Let us)'s main enemy. Of course when considering this as a strategy one automatically because strategic and thus become like (Let Us). So perhaps (Let us) is a strategist and thus anyone who seeks to compete becomes like (Let us). I'm having a hankering for salad. At another level if a person decides not to compete, that also is a strategy. If a person decides to ignore this whole situation, that is also a strategy. No strategy is as much of a strategy and a strategy, perhaps. Perhaps in an attempt to avoid situations a person can become different and thus reacting to situations changes them. No stimuli thus no reactions. Cobain said "better to burn out than fade away" and that is a strategy. Someone said "its a marathon and not a sprint" and that is a strategy. So this "Let us" aspect is certainly a war based aspect. So perhaps if one does as it commands they get to "live" but the cost is their right to fight. One song says "You have the right to fight and never surrender." That is also a strategy. I am on a quest to avoid quests. There was a priest who was rather young perhaps 35-40 and they found him hanging from a rope in the rectory and a much older priest said "he was tortured", a tortured soul who determined the correct strategy was to leave. Strategy is not perhaps evil or good, because all living things have some strategy, like a jellyfish's strategy is to float with the current near the surface to get the most food. Ants strategy is teamwork. Sharks strategy is "lone wolf". No absolutes but certainly in the ball park.

There was a kid fighting in Syria and they sent him out to see if they were out of range of an enemy tank, and so the kid ran across the street and, well, they were in range. Settling on a strategy can be a losing strategy.

"It's too late. We can't win, they've gotten too powerful."

So this person is a soldier and he is giving his last opinion about the situation. Kind of like a soldier in war who is fatally wounded but reports on the aspects of the enemy before he dies. Similar to in World War 2 when runners would deliver a message but when they were shot the enemy would shoot them many times to make sure there was no air in their lungs so they couldn't report on the situation. So obviously this person is sad because he is going to off himself and so he fought long and hard but was defeated mentally perhaps because he decided the best course of action was to leave the battlefield. misty upham

"8.1 And Azazel taught men to make swords, and daggers, and shields, and breastplates. And he showed them the things after these, and the art of making them; bracelets, and ornaments, and the art of making up the eyes, and of beautifying the eyelids, and the most precious stones, and all kinds of coloured dyes. And the world was changed." = science, technology, relative to numbers and reading and writing and math. = might makes right = science trumps morals

So this is saying science against everything else perhaps the age old technology versus whatever is left over after that of course at this stage it appears that everything is based on that to the degree of looking at tribes with no technology they appear to be very alien in contrast to people with clean clothes and nice pair of sneakers and their hair combed nicely and you mirror that to the tribes who have paint on their face and hardly wearing any clothes at times and they seem like one of the two mentally speaking is in another place and time, and perhaps that is what it actually happened what exactly are we like if we take away technology or science and what we have left is what the tribes are so that would be a base line contrast everything beyond the tribes is science fair project so there are not really any people in recorded history that you can say wasn't a science fair project because all of them are relative to technology going back thousands of years. heading towards human cyborgs and this is some sort of science fair dream we are in where what people think is important is not really important and this cyborg dream is what is important.

in the video game if profits keep increasing or greed is allowed over everything else in video game then eventually players won't play because it will be an obvious losing game.

Perhaps what I am finding in the study of the less than mentally competent ones you perhaps know as scientists is they have perhaps been so engrossed or nazified to use a term you perhaps are aware of they do not even grasp simple aspects of the situation because for example

Gen_2:12 And the gold of that land is good; bdellium and onyx stone are there.

the ones whose minds were never cured perhaps from the apple sauce eating contest perhaps could not determine that the line in the ancient texts is not talking about what it appears to be talking about the apple sauce eating contest minds perhaps would never guess that in fact that is talking about the ethereal aspects perhaps relative to gold being of course the pristine and onyx being the divided and perhaps you can perhaps deduce what the other aspect is but perhaps the real perhaps laughable aspect is it like being on a ship and they have 3 captains one with a pristine mind and one with a divided mind and one absolutely essentially no mind perhaps and they decide who to allow to drive the ship through rocky seas and they perhaps always pick the third mind perhaps.. so perhaps its not a problem since the pickers of the mind perhaps dont really have minds perhaps because they seem to be unable to pick the even divided minds mean while the natified minds assume perhaps that their scientific methods are sound but perhaps thats only because their methods work in the short term so perhaps it would be like perhaps drinking a small shot glass of bleach perhaps every day and thinking after the first day perhaps everything is fine with that method perhaps and thus drinking it everyday for a year and perhaps in that case it would show its reality perhaps but perhaps the nazified minds perhaps more focused on aspects that are perhaps unknown but perhaps the reality is onyx stone = Agate and onyx are both varieties of layered chalcedony that differ only in the form of the bands: agate has curved bands and onyx has parallel bands. = the bands are up and down and never touch. = separated gold = pristine mind perhaps onyx = divided mind perhaps but then there is the aspect over seeing that perhaps (over seer ((gold mind(pristine)(onyx minds(divided))))

((((gold mind(pristine)(onyx minds(divided)))) = on the boat headed for the bottom

(over seer) = laughing at the boat headed to the bottom) =

except for one aspect that senario is actual reality

Gen 3:16 To the woman he said, "I will surely multiply your pain in childbearing; in pain you shall bring forth children. Your desire shall be for your husband, and he shall rule over you."

Gen 3:17 And to Adam he said, "Because you have listened to the voice of your wife and have eaten of the tree of which I commanded you, 'You shall not eat of it,' cursed is the ground because of you; in pain you shall eat of it all the days of your life; on one level this is talking about the divison of the mind left and right, so left rules over right and that is the slavery aspect, the multiplication of pain may be relative to conditioning the mind with the left brain favoring education may cause certain pain to be greater than it would be if the conditioning never happened on one level. So tinkering with the mind at such a young age causes side effects essentially. "Your desire shall be for your husband, and he shall rule over you." this is saying the right brain aspect will be ruled by the left brain aspect so that means female is right and male is left. So then there are traits relative to this, females cry and males don't cry. It's a man's world relative to this left is the world we live in and it's obvious because there is not much care for the world. Every body is "happy" that we abuse the children with the marks education and everyone is happy that we abuse the environment and take advantage of each other and make everyone a number and put a value on that. So right, female, cares and left, male, doesn't care. This is not talking about in minor general issues this is talking about the whole world. Nuclear plants explode and poison the ocean, that's great and we should all be happy, millions of children kill their self yearly as a direct result of the education, that's great we should all be happy, that is what a man's, left brain trait world is. So on another level this would be a situation of deception, where the people may be female, or right brained but they have to guard against ever showing sadness or crying because that would give them away. So that is some kind of "mind control" if a person is walking around and reminding their self, don't show emotion because it's a man's world and then they will try to control you. So because this man's, left brain world is here, it means that "God" is male and laughs at everything, This god is unable to judge which is not a positive factor it's a mental condition caused by eating off the tree of knowledge,. If you are happy when looking at someone else's misery, you are mentally fucked up. Your mind factually no longer works. You should be sad when you see others suffering you should be sad when you see the world being abused and other animals being slaughtered for very stupid reasons, and you should be upset when you see kids who get educated and it goes south, kill their self because the wind blew. If your laughing at that, then your mind doesn't work anymore. Being always happy or always sad is a sign of mental instability and this is relative to favoring left hemisphere with education as a child. If someone ever buys into this "game" that is also a sign of mental instability. It's like the civilization forces a person too be mentally unstable because if they act sound minded they will be taken out. It's like a story that was read and a person was an african american and someone broke into his house and shot him dead and then someone at the bottom of the article posted, "He was smart" .That's why he got killed he was sound minded and in a situation like this that is so controlled by religion and belief systems , if you are smart that means you aren't religious. The god and the devil are the same thing just varying degrees of mental instability. God always is happy, the devil always is angry. That is mental instability. Perhaps the more devastating aspect is no one can come up with a way to get rid of reading writing and math although Pol Pot attempted to, so I am told. Perhaps that a new form of suicide , "Writing about reality". In the movie about jim jones towards the end and at one stage in the movie they said "Jim your not good with numbers but you are a good salesman" so he perhaps was right brained leaning, Jim said "We are killing ourselves to protest all the lies." It would be like going to court and someone says "you said this and did this " and you really didn't but everyone agrees with that charge because they are all "influenced" so to speak and so you would just be there being abused mentally by knowing what they say is a lie, but they are doing it in the name of this "god, left brain, happy -devil right brain, angry" aspects. It's not a society if the majority is under the "influence" it's called a cult. It's as if a person could never do anything because whatever they do favors one aspect or the other aspect. So you have two choices pick left or right mental imbalance or be killed. That is the only choice a person has who is not in a written education induced coma caused from birth. And what makes it worse for me is I don't remember what I type if someone just types and stuff comes out and then I forget it, so I may even be under some type of influence but I can seem to detect a way to stop that or curb that or affect that. It's like a million voices giving you their opinion and then you recall, they are depressed they aren't you. The straight and narrow is the way of danger and the "long way home" is the path of safety. It doesn't seem like this influence cares much about my safety or my security and perhaps I'm not sure what to think if it did but I know what to think since it doesn't. There is a story about some group Bilderberg and they have a ritual they call "cremation of care" and that explains the destruction of right hemisphere traits, sadness, crying, creativity. So the goal appears to be eliminate all forms of caring. Like your parents made you go to school and get the education that certainly killed some but definitely affects your mental ability but no one said anything to you, and thus your own parents don't care, about you, at all. If they did care they risk being silenced. So you may hear about people who attempted to do something let's use JFK as an example he tried to I forget "get to the bottom of some control scheme" and he was killed, and that cremation of care, like the goal is somehow to make it so eventually they will be able to kill a baby on national TV just for the fun of it and no one will say anything about it and they will all laugh. That may already be here, it's hard to say because most arguments are about meaningless crap. There is not one news source anywhere that has ever said "the fact some kids kill their self because of the education taught at a young age makes us sad". No one cares, the cremation of care, that right brain, the destruction of emotion. So then we have a situation that the ones who care and are angry, are considered "evil" and the ones who laugh when a tragedy is revealed are considered "god like". Sometimes I think what has happened to me, and this is horrible to be aware of then I realize, I much rather feel something when a sad situation is around than to not feel anything because only a corpse would feel nothing when a sad situation is witnessed. But it's not cut and dry, I saw one person explaining things about this situation at a hadn saying "we are a dying planet/species" and he worked that into a speech along with many jokes. Relative to "make them laugh or they will kill you." So there are strategies going on all relative to this

Left brain (doesn't care) - Right Brain (does care) - Planet and all situations in it. This is the balancing act. Not healthy to care about everything but it is unhealthy to not care about anything. But the choices that are given means you have to be one or the other all the time. You have to care all the time or not care all the time. You can't be "lukewarm" that's illegal. because that means you are smart or have a sound mind. it's very easy to hate this situation but on the other hand having a situation to work with is perhaps better than sitting idle watching the ship sink. The good side is, if you are any good at it, you won't be around long, that's a fact jack. Seemxzs i traied away from genesis 3:16-17.-8/25/2015 2:06:23 AM

Abraham's Idea

So perhaps you have heard the story of Abraham and perhaps you also perceive you are aware of what it was about and in fact the story goes something like

Abraham takes his child and puts him on an altar to sacrifice him to God and just before Abraham sacrifices his child God says Stop and so he doesn't sacrifice his child.

So perhaps you perceive things are on the up and up or perhaps you perceive all these aspects who explain this story cannot be mistaken about what that story is really about, perhaps. So perhaps because well to use a story. When the Titanic was sinking did the people prefer to keep calm and sink calmly or did the people prefer to scream and fight as the ship was sinking. Perhaps in a war situation like Bastogne the troops decided not to sink slowly they decided to fight chaotically and thus somehow this tactic worked and they fended off a much larger force that was attacking Bastogne in World War 2. The situation is perhaps not identical to the Titanic because whether the people were chaotic or orderly the Titanic still sunk. As one lyric in a song goes "let's not go gently into the endless winter night." This perhaps is closer to the Titanic aspect because perhaps what it is doing is actually suggesting or substituting perhaps the Titanic for this mysterious endless winter night perhaps. So perhaps you are saying to yourself "Oh great author who uses "perhaps" way to often and has no grammar skills, "What does this have to do with Abraham dipshit."" So Abraham was not doing anything that story suggested he was doing in fact that story was factually perhaps altered in order to make sure anyone who read it did not discover what it was really about. It's kind of like perhaps if I say "God" in telling a story about fishing I say 'God said throw your line over there and I do and catch a big fish' then a reader may suggest the topic of that sentence was not fishing and not fish and not me but the topic of that sentence was about God" You can perhaps think on many stories about "things" that seem to do that. What is the song "The Devil went down to Georgia" about? Perhaps it's about Georgia? The song talks about a gold fiddle. Is the song really about the gold fiddle? Maybe it's about Johnny who says he can outplay the fiddle in contrast to another being. So if the story of Abraham says "God says sacrifice your son and Abraham does and just before he does God says don't, then is this suggesting something that a person can grasp because they're afraid if this story was explained properly something may happen. Like if someone was on the titanic and did something the titanic would not sink so they would not want that to happen because they want the titanic to sink. Thus a person saying things about the titanic and making it stop sinking would be a threat perhaps if the titanic sinking was their goal. Similarly perhaps the story of Abraham is the same. So the story about Abraham is the story about a tribal person explaining how to turn their child into a ghost person. So medically speaking it is easy to understand perhaps. This medical explanation would take away the "compartmentalization" aspect, perhaps.

Abraham takes his son and lays him on a table and ties his hands up and then does things to make it seems like he is going to sacrifice him. When his son Isaac is scared Abraham raises the knife above him and this is what causes Isaac to think he is going to be sacrificed and then Abraham stops and doesn't actually sacrifice him. So the same story medically explain:

Take a person and put them in a situation where you get their hypothalamus to give them the death signal but make them face it or make it so they cannot escape. In fight club movie a good example of this is when they drive a car down the interstate and let go of the wheel. A person would get the death signal from the hypothalamus and not grabbing the wheel would ensure that. So it is perhaps possible that "religion" is not at all about "religion" but there were perhaps not medical ways to explain it back then.

Mat 1:18, He is miraculously conceived of the Holy Ghost by the Virgin Mary, when she was espoused to Joseph;

Joh 15:26, The office of the Holy Ghost.

So perhaps some will say speaking about this or that is bad or wrong or evil, but the titanic appears to have the same fate either way so perhaps they are simply attempting to correct something that's not correctable. As my good friend once said "Those who try to get in your way in this place are only doing so because they are sad they don't see what you see."

So hypothalamus gives "fight or die" signal then you just "don't do anything" and our messed up minds take that as a die. Perhaps the deeper reality is somehow humans are smart enough to figure out how flawed our minds are and then take advantage of that. If you get your hypothalamus to give you the death signal and then you don't run for the light switch your mind is so messed up, it assumes you are dead and you really are dead. And from that moment on you can't take it back or undo it, and what's even stranger is a person who has not applied it, a living person will start scaring their self and coming up with reasons not to apply it. So perhaps if you haven't applied it and you are now aware of how to apply it you can perhaps use your imagination to think about what it's like. So perhaps in one way you are factually perhaps in a position of great power. Think, you are aware now of the situation. A situation you are not involved in but you are capable of being involved in by application or capable of being involved in without application. So perhaps the only reality of separation in the vicinity perhaps is those who are forthcoming with the situation and those who are not.

So some questions you could perhaps consider are : How much more intelligent is a person who has applied the hypothalamus juice in contrast to a person who is alive?

Would it be 10% or 90%? Or would it be -10% or -90% relative to situational awareness.

Perhaps you like video games I personally played Command and Conquer on the brutal setting until I figured out the patterns of what the program was doing. So Perhaps I would be perhaps melded with the program to the extent I am aware of its patterns and so then you don't do as you would think relative to defeating it, you simply adopt patterns relative to the patterns detected.

I perhaps certainly have never seen so many ghosts afraid of becoming themselves. And this perhaps is what Abraham was attempting to address. On another level a living cannot really grasp what a ghost is perhaps going through because they are not on the "ball park" in so many respects, but on some levels they are absolutely identical. This suggests that perhaps a live person has many factors in their favor just being aware of the hypothalamic reality perhaps. This gives them a certain aspect that allows them to face what is going on without actually being a part of it. So they can perhaps be aware of the "ghost motel" reality. Of course some have adopted psychological beliefs concerning the situation. Like the word "humble" that a psychological belief and so Abraham said "The Lord told me to do this on Isaac" so that's psychology of him being humble like "I didn't come up with this the Lord did." So that perhaps leads to the other psychological aspect called "playing dumb" and of course that would be like an ambulance driver finding you on the road after an accident and you are pretty badly damaged and you ask the ambulance driver "How bad is it Doc" and the doc says "You're gonna be just fine." That's an example of humility also, whereas the "arrogance" psychology aspect would be "You're not gonna make it to the hospital in fact you're not gonna make it into the ambulance."

So if you were on the Titanic would you want someone humble or arrogant to tell you the situation. The person that just explains it without consideration for how you are going to react would be called perhaps a "straight shooter". That would be like someone in a war situation or even any situation where you say "What is the situation" and they say "There are 40 tanks and 10000 men in front of our 2 tanks and 30 men" The humble person would say "It could be worse" and the arrogant person would perhaps say "It could be better." So there are these three opinions that are perhaps vying for their say. Like the saying "If you can't say anything nice don't say anything at all." That's a pretty messed up world to live in because it perhaps is based on an extreme, but on another level if "its works don't knock it" but on the Titanic, everything appears to work because nothing works, perhaps. Perhaps in the Titanic situation the only thing that worked was the water's ability to work. Now perhaps since you have read this, you have to factor the ghost aspect into everything you do. When you see someone perhaps you have to wonder if Abraham applied this on his son there may be many young people who are. Perhaps when you see someone on the world stage you have to perhaps consider perhaps they are. Perhaps if Abraham 5400 years ago was aware of this "programming application" then perhaps if you are really not aware of it, then perhaps some aspect decided you shouldn't be aware of it. On another level perhaps its a one time thing, if society announced it they could not take it back. Perhaps you could say "if you get the hypothalamus to give you the death signal watching "Winnie the pooh" then don't run for the light switch our minds are so stupid they think you are a ghost and start acting like it." So perhaps other mammals or any creature that is capable of fear or has a hypothalamus, perhaps all moderately sized creatures can in fact become ghosts creatures but they perhaps are not on the level that they can explain it to others. So it may appear they are dumber than us, but in reality it may be the opposite. So this is all still relative to Abrahams story. He obviously believed that it was proper to explain it. How to become a ghost and be a ghost and how to apply it on your children. He was a straight shooter perhaps because he explained it and didn't worry about how it would be taken because there were far too many personalities perhaps who would react differently. Perhaps Abraham was simply not thinking its a big deal outside of some other factors involved. Perhaps he saw that the titanic was sinking so it may not even matter one way or the other. So lets say there is a bird flying and it flying into your window because it can't see it and hits its head very hard and thus now its a ghost bird. Let say perhaps there is a person running and they fall down and hit their head and now they are a ghost person. Lets say there is a minnow in a school of fish and some big fish bites a chunk off them and now they are swimming around as a ghost fish. So then there are all these ghost things all around but a person who isn't aware of the abraham explanation would not see it at all. I have seen schools of minnows where there were millions and some had many chunks taken out of them and so they must be ghostly as all get out. Lets play probable improbable.

Reasons for keeping it secret.

A- living people may not like ghost people because of various reasons - Probable.

B- Living people may not be able to relate to what's really happening or reality well since they have a set "reality" in their mind and it doesn't include the "ghost world" reality - Probable

C - They don't tell living about the ghost reality because they care about the living - Improbable

D - They don't tell the living about the ghost (method) because they think knowledge is power and if the living don't have that info they are weak - probable

Some questions for you:

What percent are ghost? I think around one in five or greater.

MLK said something like i forget most of it "...the silence of your friends."

That means perhaps the ones that really care or want you to be aware are silent, thus ensuring you never are aware but not because they don't care and not because they do care. I personally am not your friend because you are living but I am your friend because you at least are considering things you may have never considered before after reading my arrangement of the marks in a linear fashion on a piece of papyrus. So Ill will move into the comedy section now.

Interestingly Ghosts people have a very great abhorrence to becoming a full fledged ghost. This is perhaps relative to the mark arrangement someone used called "Its just one long postponement" Perhaps that would be a strange world to live in, where everyone essentially you know on all levels are not doing things they want to do they are simply doing things to postpone or avoid their inability to face what they are, a ghost. So you may perceive we are headed in a direction and that is correctly but perhaps factually relative to the Abraham story that may have been explained 5400 years ago, we are not going forward yet going backward. You can pick anything from any situation and consider if it going forward or going backward. Is going to space going forward or going backward? Perhaps it all resrs on the absolute determination of forward. Forward would perhaps be determined by the Native American explanation "Adults are just borrowing the world from their children." Thus if everything is going backwards then the Tribes as they are called are the absolute forwards and everything else is perhaps attempting to follow them but failing because they falled. It is perhaps like falling down and then trying to get back up but that's just a dream, the getting back up part. As one person wrote in a song "dreams are hopeless aspirations" Suggesting what you should do after you apply is perhaps also one of those aspirations, so I wont. Perhaps you can also consider that not all ghosts are bad ghosts but simply dealing with reality the best they can considering they also have to contend with aspects of reality that the living factually perhaps are not aware of in the slightest. Perhaps I should have told you what I really think. Sex is different. Hunger and thirst is different. Many things are not different at all. Many thing are different also.

It appears the equation is perhaps $S + P + G = K$

So perhaps the hypothalamus is perhaps our weakest link in our body because you can get it to give you a perceived death signal and then not act on that signal and become a ghost people. perhaps because in society we are faced with aspect that are perhaps less than reputable then we have to look at the reality that this weakness could perhaps be taken advantage of. perhaps There is one guy i know that took a shotgun and shot himself under the chin and the angel was too shallow so he just achieved a swift face life so to speak but perhaps the actual act of doing that the actual trigger pull would be the trigger that the hypothalamus would have said don't do that or I will think you are a ghost. Perhaps you missed his book called "how to become a ghost minus a face." Be cautious of anyone who thinks everything is funny, in reality the only thing that is funny is the wiring in their cortex and what inhabits it perhaps, perhaps. So if you look at these following marks you can detect certain emotions in them - "I don't wanna know" or "I do wanna know" the former suggests fear and the latter suggests curiosity. If it's you or me it's gonna be you, and if it's us or them it's gonna be them. Those who give up their rights for security have already punished themselves to the full extent. As the people you associate with increases what you have to say means less and less; Our leader has 300 million friends. The rule that's important to consider is don't deal with an overt situation covertly. Anyone you see on the world stage is essentially attempting to do that, and so they perhaps are just saying "look how much I regret it." if anything at all. Following that rule "no overt against a covert situation" may not save you or keep you safe but it will give you a rule to follow. So what is religion? Perhaps religion is nothing more than aspects attempting to explain how to be ghost people Genesis 15:1 is the first attempt at suggesting the flaw in humans. Genesis 15:1 'And the Lord said to Abraham "fear Not" That is showing the flaw in humans. If your hypothalamus gives you a death signal and you don't run then you become a ghost. Jesus observed this in Luke 17:33. perhaps in a lab rat experiment if all the lab rats act the same there perhaps is no need for the experiment anymore, perhaps. The main reason why getting the hypothalamus to give you the death signal and then ignoring and thus becoming a ghost people is a weakness is over a period of time it acts like laughing gas. This means generally speaking the ones who have applied it are of no use because they just sit there and laugh. The ones who take things seriously are perhaps taking them too seriously. The ones who haven't applied it and did get the tree of knowledge reading writing and math a "discrimination against right hemisphere" - Roger Sperry are essentially in a coma relative to the fact they believe society is what it appears to be without factoring in the ghost people. The ghost people aspect would be the indicator that they are in fact way out of touch with reality if they think there aren't millions and millions of them all around them at all times. So that would be an indicator question. Ask someone "did you know there are ghost people all around because someone found out if you get the hypothalamus to give you the death signal by watching a scary movie alone in the dark that our mind's flaw is if you don't run for the light switch it will believe you died and you become a ghost people.?"

If they say "yes" then they are in touch with reality. If they say no then they are either in a coma or they are hiding because they somehow believe that's "bad or Good". They would hide for either example. If they thought it was good to be a ghost people they may hide and if they thought it was bad to be a ghost people they may also hide. Some ghost people are reacting to the shock of being a ghost person. Some ghost people are not reacting to the shock of being a ghost person. Nearly no ghost people are acting like ghost people/. If you expose 10 soldiers to combat some of them may act differently than others. So perhaps you can see why Abraham's story with Isaac, him using this "flaw" in people to become ghost people was so important relative to the world. It's like that story of Frankenstein where the people chase Frankenstein down the mountain because the people saw the ghost people as scary or different. That's not real that's called Hollywood. That's like when Lestat in the Interview with the Vampire listens to a tape of Louie and says "Louie Louie always whining."

That's hilarious but it also shows a decent point. There was a soldier who saw combat and obviously faced his fear, and he came back home and couldn't adjust and fell into a string of events that cost him his pulse. So the reality of civilization would say "he had PTSD" and died. So you may read that and not factor in ghost people and think "I'm aware of reality." when you factually are not even close. Factually perhaps because Abraham's story is not translated properly soldier/ghost person could not acquire proper attention. He perhaps was still in full blown shock after "facing his fear", becoming a ghost person chasing machine gun nests in combat. I assure you if certain aspects that you think would tell you these things haven't yet they are never going to. Like your leader, is in shock they won't tell you, your perceived leader in your vicinity won't tell you. They make up scenarios in their mind because the Titanic is sinking (planet). There was a decent ghost person he was a young kid perhaps early 20's and he was in a video and he was playing with a cat (right hemisphere) and he said "I like cats" and then he jumped in an explosive laden truck and drove into some "enemy" position and blew himself up. He should be remembered because he was a decent ghost person. It's mainly an example of shock and trauma and partly as Buddha suggested "contact". Baby ghost people are very impressionable just like a baby person is. Someone maybe did things to make him think he was something "a cat" (right brain dominate) but that's just relative again to the importance of the Abraham story perhaps. Perhaps one thing to consider is, the comment "wise like a child". In a situation of absolute delusion, they perhaps cannot be any adults smarter than a child. If someone uses reading writing and math to make children "delusional" by decimating against a hemisphere, then the only intelligent people, not ghost people but people, are the children. In many ways that's perhaps absolute reality. Perhaps everyone ghost person and real people are at the mercy of someone other than children. So in reality who would rather be in charge: A person, a child or a (decent) ghost person? One issue is, until Abraham's idea becomes reality, the Titanic (earth) is going to sink, perhaps. Another way to look at it from a non-time point of view is, Abraham's plan is in many books but refusal to acknowledge it is why the Titanic (planet and everything on it) is sinking. It's like the commercial where there is an Indian standing by the road of an interstate and someone in a car drives by and throws trash out at his feet and the Indian has a tear rolling down his face. The interstate is the earth, the trash is what is occurring on the earth, and the Indian is a child or a decent ghost person. A decent ghost person is one who has not allowed the laughing gas aspect of being a ghost to overcome them. The Indian saying goes "Adults are just borrowing the planet from their children." When I detect intelligence relative to civilizations authorities I will come to your house and remind you. As a friend of mine recently said in a speech "ultimately inhabited". Do not go into application of this "fear not" aspect thinking it will save you, or it's a requirement or something bad will happen if you don't. It's your choice. You can. It's something that's manageable and also possible at this day and age of advanced technology. Today we are only 5400 years behind where Abraham was. So now you have been informed of some information that's outside the realms of society. Perhaps they should have just called it hot fudge sundae from McDonalds then no one would assume they are full of shit. Like in the movie Matrix where Neo says "this is not where it ends this is where it begins." The Abraham story is where it begins and everything else are just aspects in some dream where somehow the Titanic misses the iceberg and is floating on cotton candy, perhaps. Because of the mental state the education has put you in it's important perhaps to use patterns. Pattern 1: The Abraham and Isaac fear not equals ghost people, pattern. Think carefully has anyone ever told you that and since the answer will certainly be no, then you can see, that as a pattern in the "system" they don't want you to know. That leads to the next pattern. "they don't want you to know that because then you would know there are ghost people" then that leads to the next pattern "They don't want you to know there are ghost people because then you will know most are "ultimately inhabited" And now perhaps consider the comment "the good things in life come free. DO not worry about the control aspects reading this they seem to have certain belief systems that will not allow them to entertain certain "comments" , perhaps. Id advise playing command and conquer 3 on brutal setting until you start to elevate your strategy aspects before application of the Abraham idea. These are some of your brothers and sisters that died as a result of the educational . Someone said if you can say anything nice don't say anything at all. Perhaps I should tell you what I really think.

Motto for the day: Abrahams Idea is better.

Alyssa Morgan (12) hanged herself after she was bullied for being bisexual.

Benjamin Bowling (12) died by hanging.

Simon Murski (12) allegedly took his own life.

This is a cursory explanation and will be founded on a scientists observations and then slowly progress to the non verbal realm. Please mind the patterns.

[.our education system, as well as science (tools of science are math and writing/ dena and demotic , respectively) in general, tends to neglect the nonverbal (intuition, creativity, the soul) form of intellect. What it comes down to is that modern society discriminates against the right hemisphere.] - Roger Sperry (1973)

Adding the comments in () in order to clarify labels.

Essentially that comment is saying in spirit. The science tools, math and writing, are linear based, 123, abc, and spelling is also linear based. That is the domain of left brain, the aspect that is physical focused. In favoring left brain , naturally one would discriminate against right brain traits, because the being is very young in mental development when they start "learning".

So left hemisphere is physical focused and great at linear aspects like numbers and "marks" or characters arranged in linear fashion.

Right hemisphere is contrary, right hemisphere in non verbal meaning non physical focused and it is random access based, and it has this sense called intuition.

So in learning the math as a child one veils their right brain traits, intuition is one of them.

Right brain non physical or cerebral /telepathic focused.

Keeping that in mind,

[Genesis 1:1 In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.]

Physical focused = earth = left brain

Cerebral focused = heaven = right brain

In the beginning God created the heaven(right hand side) and the earth (left hand side).

There are several repeats of this line just worded slightly different, but the spirit of the intuitional checksum, is perhaps identical.

[Genesis 2:17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.]

Be mindful left brain has an aspect called "seeing parts" this is contrary to right brain "holistic " meaning , everything is good. One is lacking prejudice.

This is an example of lacking prejudice or unconditional acceptance.

[Genesis 1:10 And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good.] = everything look good meaning right brain holistic perception. The connection between right brain and the God image reveals itself perhaps when one understands, right brain is understood to be the creativity aspect, relative to "the God image in man" or "the creator image in man". So when a person who is a great artists says "I owe it to man upstairs" they perhaps means, I owe it to that right brain creator image in me.

[But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil,] = (good and evil) = prejudice or seeing too many

So the tree of knowledge, is suggesting, its math and writing and that makes one see abnormal amount of parts (good and evil) in contrast to how one starts off life "stamped from the big cloth" , a child of God, meaning holistic perception.

A side note: The Egyptain god of literacy , engineering, medicine, writing and math, is Thoth the four headed ram god, sometimes suggested to just have two heads. Imhotep was a slave, who learned the tree of knowledge, and rose in the ranks , and was also thought to have built the first pyramid. Imhotep is the patron saint of the scribes. People who learn the number and writing were called scribes, today they are scientists. That "from rags to riches" story relative to just getting some number and writing skills is relative to this comment.

[Genesis 3:6 And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat.]

Firstly, in translating Hebrew to Latin, the "male plural" word turns into a "female singular" word.

This is understood and also "gels" with the reality, the first beings to be scribes were males and Imhotep was their Patron Saint and His God was Thoth the multi ((parts) headed god. So one may sum up Imhotep as aa powerful scribe who God was not the one true god meaning, in leanring that math his mind bent to the left and he started seeing lots of parts, and so his god also had a many parts head.

[and a tree to be desired to make one wise] = One goes to school to become "wise" or enriched or "well read" so top speak, but one does not go to school to have this done to them,[discriminates against the right hemisphere.]

One way to look at it is, any aspect that contends it can "teach" a child of God can only be blindness because well, intuition understands everything. It is like telling God, You are good but if you get my number, Ill shore your mind right up" If one attempts to fix perfection they can only destroy it.

In attempting to "fix" our perfect minds this certain sinister aspect or spirit, only achieves this:[discriminates against the right hemisphere.]

The scenario is like the mad scientist frankenstein monster story.

A scientist "learns the number and writing as a child" and this happens:[discriminates against the right hemisphere.] Because intuition is relative to perception and perception is relative to cognitive ability, that being is clinically insane and has a poor cognitive ability if any at all.

Thus we have now a mad scientist. This mad scientist sees a baby, and that baby looks "bad" to that mad scientist because insanity sees sanity as insanity, and so the mad scientist says "I can fix that baby right up" So then we have frankenstein, created by the mad scientist.

The war between science and religion is based on one single reality.

The science tools, math and writing are linear based and thus when taught to children whose minds are developing, it discriminates against right hemisphere and that is, intuition, perhaps the soul.

So one can look at a religious person essentially as a person who was exposed to the math of the mad scientist and then applies the remedy, and restores right brain traits, and then they speak out against the "scribes" and say "that harms the little ones, so suffer them and send them to me after you "educate" them and I'll explain the remedy so they don't stay "frankensteined"

So it is an if then statement:

If one eats off the tree of knowledge, then, for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die (they must apply the remedy, keep that sabbath, or keep the covenant.) to restore right brain traits.

So reverting back to "heaven and earth"; left brain sees parts so its god would have multiple heads. The "one" true God would have one head, and that is relative to right brain holistic aspects.

Because of the nature of this situation, going up against scientists, which were scribes back then, was dangerous, because their Golden calf, Makes one physical focused, cause it favors left brain, and so if the scribes ever said "Guess what our math and writing does to your babies mind", common people would be displeased perhaps, so that must never ever enter into the realm of "questions".

One being attempting to stand up to the ones of the "number" and he tossed a symptom of their "number" exposure on the ground "money" and Bael is relative to commerce, GNP, etc.

So Thoth is relative to literacy and a side effect of that is an economy and that god is Bael.

Perhaps it is important to understand the remedy and how it is to be applied.

Very interesting.

There is a thread in the Religion section of this forum that is asking for peoples opinions of what the tree was, you might want to join in the discussion there too.

Axiom A [If you teach, expose, make accustomed ; the little ones to the math and writing aspects, it will turn their perfect harmony mind into a more perfect harmony mind.]

In reality the actual axiom is this : Axiom B [What it comes down to is that modern society discriminates against the right hemisphere. (via the math or science) - Roger Sperry (1973)]

The concept is:

X = sound minded being when born 50/50

Y = Mental state after getting the "number" relative to this (left brain physical) reality : modern society discriminates against the right hemisphere.

Z = conclusion

$X + Y = Z$

One of these beings that was suggested to be "one the right hand side" or as some might call it "one with a strong force" which means they restored "right brain non verbal aspect like "intuition", as the result of "keeping the "sabbath" which is just code for the remedy.

"Forgive them for they know not what they do."

[them = Followers of the literacy god, Thoth, and their patron saint is Imhotep, and we know the number favors left brain and makes one physical focused, because he built the first pyramid.

Follower of the patron saint Imhotep, or simply just "people who learned the pen as a child".

It is important to perhaps separate this situation using Plato's Left foot, physical, and right foot, spiritual, non physical.

"Forgive them for they know not what they do." = They are hallucinating because in learning the pen as children, it favors left brain so much, they have an honest to goodness "perception disorder"

That means, since one gets the number as a child, and it is taught it to them by an adult who also was exposed to the number, which causes the perception disorder, then the number itself and the literacy itself, is a Trojan horse.

It is important To attempt to keep the foot in the "left" physical focus perception when looking at this because the actual perception disorder "curse" makes one very physical focused, a consumer, and commerce is relative to Bael the commerce god, and also relative to Thoth the literacy and engineering god, and thus relative to math and science, and a Nobel prize winning neurobiology said this about the very science he won Nobel prizes for:

This perhaps indicates, "religion" is at best damage control. It appears the remedy is only really considered a holy "crusade" on an individual level if one looks at taking an antidote to a bad dose of acid as a holy crusade.

[..our education system, as well as science in general, tends to neglect the nonverbal form of intellect. What it comes down to is that modern society discriminates against the right hemisphere.] - Roger Sperry (1973)

The above comment if one considers "They exposed to the number, know not what they do" meaning as Dante explained, "have their head turned around backwards"

Simply put, if one puts on blinders and tries to cross the road, it will be tough because they have a perception disorder, and if they tried they would get hit by many cars, and a being observing that may say "Forgive that guy he knows not what he does" kind of like saying "He is tripping so don't think that was a sound minded human being" or , That being would not have acted like that if they did not get exposed to the mad scientists "education " aspects. If a person is tripping and they do something outrageous, one does not get very emotional; because , that person was "under the influence".

Patterns is one way to detect the rift, some call it the reverse thing and some call it anti harmony and some call it anti normal or anti chirst or anti child of God.

So a being is born in 50/50, they get the science, and it discriminates against the right hand side, and because the ones who "educate" with it "know not what they do" then its an attack.

[our education system, as well as science in general] discriminates against the right hemisphere.]
{veils right brain traits and one trait is our radar, intuition, the "sixth sense". it telepathy essentially.]
So because a being in physical left brain state exposed to the number, would perhaps start suggesting "supernatural" it is important to translate that ideal back to : "left brain physical]

[tends to neglect the nonverbal form of intellect.] = non verbal = non physical = non energy and non matter

So, this number is discovered and these scribes start using it, and it veils right brain , the right hand side as a side effect, and that turns off our radar. Trojan horse. Roger Sperry studied the human brain so much to "arrange those marks in a linear fashion" that he caught kuru, and died from it. The laughing sickness one can get from eating human brains.

So a parable would be the only way right brain could communicate because , it handles everything in the universe except verbal and physical aspects. The problem with that is a being exposed to the number, only has physical focus because the number veiles the "right hand side", so it appears again as "

supernatural"

So once that term is defined and reduced back to "left brain physical"

Left brain physical focused, verbal communication, speech, numbers and letters and words = Natural.

Right brain : non physical, non verbal communication "intuition", no numbers, no speech, and no words or letters = Supernatural.

Thus supernatural means, to a being exposed to the number, the aspects veiled relative to senses, by the number.

So, staying in physical left brain,

One can determine what kind of universe we are in, simply by looking at our schematics.

Our left brain deals with physical focus and simple linear aspects.

Absolute contrary is the machine, the right hand side.

Random access processing as opposed to linear left brain processing.

Creativity (the creator image), complexity, paradox, ambiguity.

So, "the science/number discriminates against, creativity, lightning fast processing, "intuition" paradox, complexity. And also that right hand side, is dedicated in fact to the "non verbal non physical based" realities of this universe, because nature would not dedicate so much power, so the machine could detect {non physical non verbal  based, reality, if there was none.

Of course scientist, discovered, the tree of knowledge is the math and writing, or "the number of the beast" or "the number that makes perfect sound minded humans, beasts" or beings that are "under the influence" or " possessed appearing", and it does not appear, anyone noticed and so that indicates the level of damage done.

If One has a weapon, and it's a tool, and they aim that weapon and the barrel turns back around and is aiming at them. If that person gives an army of a billion that weapon, when the leader says attack, he will destroy his whole army if he gives the order to fire, with those "tools"

Another way to look at it is:

About 4800 years ago this slave Imhotep was tired of being a slave and so he joined a cult, the cult was The cult of the scribes. He being a slave perhaps didn't not get exposed to the number as early as most, so he was perhaps exceptional at it. This cause the males to jump on this number boat, and then we kind of drowned in a flood, because it "discriminates against our minds". That would then mean, the females who did not get the "number" would be looked at like "stupid" relative to an insane person. Females who did not get the perception disorder were sane, so people who were insane would see them factually as insane, stupid and even "evil" or harmful.

For example: Einstein said "I quit school at 16 because the math harmed my creativity"

His teacher said "Einstein was thrown out of school because he had behavior problems"

Everything is relative to the observer.

Relative to what Sperry said, Einstein said "I was being abused by those scribes, and my creator image was being harmed so I did what I had to do, to get out of that place"

This suggests Einstein may have actually had some right brain holistic aspects "saved" because he kind of aborted the "process"

And so perhaps making a holistic comment like:

c is time and that is relative

so then it is $E = M$

And that means everything is one thing, or holistic. One pattern is many "tribes" suggest they "detect a spirit of oneness in everything"

So that pattern is "holistic" is relative to 50/50 mind set, and the number (left brain mind) is relative to "seeing many parts"

So it is improbable a "scribe" would ever come up with $E=Mc^2$ because that is a holistic perception.

Key to decipher the following "marks/character arranged in a linear fashion relative to "code words relative to "right brain intuition/ parable or poet form of communication"

{[And Eisenstein said " I quit school at 16 because the math harmed my creativity" = creativity a right brain trait , right hand side creator image

His friend Freud said "Neurosis is the inability to tolerate ambiguity"

Ambiguity is a right brain trait , relative to "Jesus was on the right hand side and had moments of doubt/ ambiguity"

Sperry said "Modern society, (the scribes/ scientist), discriminate against right hemisphere." = First two were were "friends" and Sperry is probable. so these mark arrangements are really interchangeable.

Using the keys:

"I quit school at 16 because the math harmed my creativity" : Transposing Freud's comments:

"I quit school at 16 because the neurotics harmed by ambiguity aspects"

Reverse transpose would look lie this, meaning using Freud comments ones transposes Eisenstein comments.

"Math does not tolerate creativity": That just means left brain is math writing and linear based, and so right brain is anti that. "Oil and water don't mix " concept.

Now Sperry's comments: Transposed over Einstein and frauds.

What is come down to is , the neurotics, with their math, discriminate against right hemisphere traits like ambiguity and creativity"

This indicates, there is some sort of "inter species" communication happening as a result of this number "curse". It is like 3 people who are aware all the judges were exposed to the number, so they are formulating a "trial" on this "non verbal or "parable/poet" communication channels.

And one being suggested to be "on the right hand side" said "Forgive the scribes for they know not what they do,." (under the influence)

One can relate perhaps to why scribes would be the missing piece of that comment because of this comment:

[Matthew 7:29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.] Jesus kept the sabbath, and removed the perception disorder and in contrast to the ones still "under the influence of the perception disorder" he spoke logically and reasonably. The Greeks called Jesus the Lord of Logo, meaning lord of reason or logic.

If a person is an LSD and they see and hear the words of a person not on LSD, they may say "man you are so deep and intelligent and wise" but thats only relative to their perception, not reality.

[Luke 22:2 = The ruler scribes and the scribes in general saw the Lord of Logic, a being that negated the perception disorder as a threat, because insanity see' sanity as insanity.

Transposing the patterns from Freud, Sperry and Einstein into Luke 22:2.

[And the (chief priests and scribes, the neurotics, the math, the science), sought how they might kill him(discriminate against, the ones with moment of doubt, ambiguity, creativity, the creator, the right hand side); for they feared the people.]

[for they feared the people.] = This added line, is a symptom of the "curse". Fear. Thees scribes ate off the tree of knowledge and that is vanity because it doesn't "make you smarter" if it "discriminates against right hemisphere "radar", its just an attack or a Trojan horse and an insane persons, weapon that points back to his own face when he shoots it.

Keeping the patterns in mind: One can answer this "riddle":

[Jeremiah 8:8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the scribes is in vain.]

[How do ye (scribes, neurotics, the ones of the math or number) say, We are wise (sound minded able to see what all the knowledge means), and the law of the LORD (right hand side) is with us?

Simply put, How can you be sane when that number discriminates against right brain and veils your intuition, relative to perception and thus cognitive ability?

Perhaps a humor way to say its is :How can you say you are sane when you are insane?

Or, How can you say you understand the Creator when you just veiled his image in man, right hand side, creativity aspect,with that number that makes men act like beasts?

Staying in left brain natural / physical.

The patterns are important because left brain detects patterns. That means if one was exposed to the math and has yet to apply the remedy, patterns are still their strong suit, so they would detect a pattern when they see one, although they may not have the right brain "complexity, paradox, and intuitional" aspects of "right hand side" to decipher them, so to speak.

This could be explained like "They hear and detect pattern but they do not understand what the patterns means, relative to cognitive ability"

or

They hear but do not understand

Or

The scribes hear but do not understand because they got that number and one side effect of that number perception state is, [for they (scribes) feared]

So a cursory observation relative to patterns and this "curse" would be.

If a symptom of the curse or perception disorder is "fear" then the logical solution would be: {fear not relative to: Genesis 15:1 After these things the word of the LORD came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.

So Abraham discovered this "fear not" aspect, or ritual or method, to undo that "spirit" of fear caused by the perception disorder caused, when a person learns that left brain "number" that discriminates against the "creator image'

So Dante said they had their "heads turn around backwards" and Some other said "they hear but do not understand" and some other said "they are neurotic because of all that science they got when their mind was in its first trimester of development considering it matures at 25 and the education starts when a parents says "can you count to ten or say your abc's"

This perhaps appears like some quick fix, the curse is a spirit of fear and the remedy is relative to "fear not".

This line suggests it is perhasp a bit more complex than that:

[Genesis 3:13 And the LORD God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

14 And the LORD God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:]

One moment "God :" is talking to the make scribes, here "altered " to say female/ woman.

What did you do scribes? We ate off that number tree that we thought would make us wise.

[And the LORD God said unto the serpent,]

The very next thing said by "god" after the scribes said we ate off that tree of numbers, is "Serpent"

They went from people to serpent after answering one question. This is the "trojan horse" reality.

One is born a sound minded human and then they are exposed to this number and then they are everything in the universe but "under the influence of the "cloth they were cut from", so to speak"

Another way to look at it is.

Anomalies and patterns like the following would not be happening if everyone was just "insane" as opposed to "possessed" as a result of this "education number"

2000 BC = Number before God, the creator image

2000 AD = Number after death of God, the creator image

This is relative to how the "simple one" Cain, was jealous of his "superior brother" and "killed him" Abel. A sort of Hijacking but on a purely "cerebral, unseen, non verbal, right brain "intuition "level;" or just one a mental level.

So Abraham, discovered [Fear not, Abram:] was the "curse to the spirit of fear, or the curse. If one is born with two hands, and one is cut off, in contrast to how they were, they are cursed. That kind of a curse, lacking essentials.

So this indicates religion is a kind of damage control to this apparent Trojan horse we discovered about 5400 years ago relative to the west in Sumeria and the Egyptians made their "version " of it and Imhotep ushered that in.

[Chancellor of the King of Egypt, Doctor, First in line after the King of Upper Egypt, Administrator of the Great Palace, Hereditary nobleman, High Priest of Heliopolis, Builder, Chief Carpenter, Chief Sculptor, and Maker of Vases in Chief.] This is Imhotep Titles, and if one considers many of these aspects are relative to math writing and science.

Administrator is like a tax collector or an accountant relative to numbers.

Building is relative to the pyramids and also engineering and that relative to math.

[Chief Carpenter] is also relative to math and measuring, and that also was what Jesus' father was, so that's why Jesus had to apply the fear not or baptism, sacrifice.

So this is all relative to left brain physical; based, but the curse itself is on a mental level, it's a mental bending of the mind to the left and thus veiling the right during mental development. meaning the person can't tell it even is happening at all.

If one takes a hit of acid at the age of 2 and it kicks in slowly at about the age of 15 or 16th maybe then they cant feel it , they will just be halusianting at 16m, and not even be aware they ever took a drug.

This known by some as a soft kill. One is killed one a mental level and they will never know it, unless someone "wakes up" and tries to explain to them what happened and then explains the remedy. If that doesn't happen, then that person is a soft kill, and they never know it. So it appears religion is damage control not "make you better" but "attempt to salvage what is salvageable after that math exposure",

Thank You

Rohrer

Alit manus nigerrimus intelligit facta.

These are patterns relative to the remedy.

(((Socrates said "No true philosopher fears death"]

[A 17th century Buddhist monk said "Meditation during action is a thousand time more effective."]

[Another Buddhist tradition of the remedy is, "Mediate alone at night in a cemetery."

[The story of Medusa, one finds Medusa in a dark place and when they look at her they turn to stone."]

Relative to the western religions these are the explanations of the remedy.

[Fear not] - Abraham and Isaac story is the "example of" fear not.

David - [Psalms 23:4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.]

Jesus - [Luke 17:33 Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.]

Mohammed - Submit]])) = The spirit of all these arrangements of the marks is the exact same checksum.

This means every statement is interchangeable.

So starting at the first one.

No true philosopher fears death. -

[philosopher] - A person that asks why a lot or ponders a lot, relative to right brain ambiguity. Jesus had moments of ambiguity. Like when my infinite wrath proclaims: "You need to get a job" I say "Why?" a lot.

So if one does not fear death, they must have :

[finds Medusa in a dark place and when they look at her they turn to stone.]

[Meditation (fear not, submit mindfully , lose your life mindfully) during action (shadow of death creates the action) is a thousand time more effective.]

So to get an idea of how this remedy works, one must firstly forget about Left brain physical reality and travel if possible to right brain non verbal, non physical reality.

Because this comment explains the scribes killed Jesus , one can just substitute scribes in Jesus's explanation of the remedy for "whosoever"

[[Luke 17:33 Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.]

Firstly L is relative to Lord and thus is the number 7. 1733 can be worked out to mean 77 ($1+3+3=7$), so this line in part is marked 777 and it is also the remedy.

[whosoever (scribes) shall lose his life shall preserve it.]

Because Jesus was known as the Lord of Logo, logic, then it is important to attempt to use logic on his comments.

From a left brain physical point of view Jesus was walking around saying:

Scribes who lose their life literally literally preserve their life literally.

Jesus was saying from a left brain point of view:

A human that dies literally lives literally. That makes no sense and that is not even possible ever into infinity, so that means that is certainly not what he was saying.

Now if one negates left brain physical and considers right brain non physical, then they can read that line as poetry, meaning there are code words.

Firstly Jesus said the kingdom is within, which means right hand side once unveiled puts one mindfully in the "kingdom:" meanings The ideal plane or consciousness. So the kingdom is within means in the mind, and thus if one applies mind(fully) to his comment, one comes up with.

[Scribes who lose their life mindfully preserve their life]

So factoring in the curse, it is just saying, those with the curse the scribes, who lose their life mindfully , restore their sound mind they were born with, or they negate the curse.

This concept is called the "resurrection."

So one has to first understand this spirit of fear from a strictly physical point of view.

The brain has a hypothalamus, this regulates fear and also hunger.

That's a medical fact, not a spiritual fact.

So if a person was attempting to say, "The script and math makes one afraid or creates abnormal fear because it messes up the hypothalamus "signals", one might say this.

[2 Timothy 1:7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.]

So this is saying, people are not born with so much fear, it's that tree of knowledge that creates so much fear when it discriminates against the right hand side, meaning a side effect of bending the mind to the left is "the hypothalamus goes nuts and one become afraid of nudity, words, sound, and probably their self"

So a straight forward way to say the remedy is, one has to trick their mind when it gives them its most powerful signal , death signal, to think they don't care, and that makes the mind think a person died, and then about 30 days later , the mind resets and in doing so, it restores right brain traits.

If one understands computers, once one gets a virus, sometimes its best to just reset the computer and that may make it go away, or leave memory.

If one is pleased with religion. One has to make that snake that is placed on their back by the number think, this person has died, and so it lets them go.

If one likes psychology, then one is simply using those abnormal fear signals, to "watch a scary movie" and when their mind says "A ghost or shadow is coming to kill you" one tell their wacked out hypothalamus, "I don't care I love death" and the mind itself determines, it must reset because the being no longer listens to it.

Seek the shadow of death and fear not when it arrives. Is from the person explaining the remedy, point of view.

So relative to one that has applied the remedy, they understand what they did, since they are alive after they apply the remedy, is, their mind said "death is coming to kill you in this dark place"

Relative to reality, its a shadow of death because their mind is giving false fear signals.

So Jesus' version of the remedy is from a person who has the curse point of view.

"Scribes who lose their life preserve it"

Dauids remedy was from "his" point of view.

Scribes who seek the "shadow of death" because they are halusinating they see it as actual death, and then fear not, preserve their sound mind.

So if one goes to a place they perceive it is certain death in the form of a ghost or spirit will factually kill them thats a good place to attempt to apply the remedy.

Go mediate in a cemetery alone at night until you feel better, is another way of saying the remedy.

The cemetary is what will cause the action or shadow of death, and then meditating when that happens means one does nothing or mentally submits, or mentally fears not.

No being that learned how to count as a child is above this remedy but teh very fact a being with the spirit of fear when told to "go find a ghost that wants to kill you literally and let it kill you literally" will repel from that and say "That sounds scary and dangerous" is why, this parable of sower is reality.

That means if the universe make it a law than everyone had to apply this remedy no matter what if they can count, about 14 million people would be able to pull it off, because the spirit of fear is so strong, their fear is so strong, they wont get near the shadow of death because they think they will go to hell for saying a cuss word or seeing a nude person.

So becasue of the aletrnate perception dimension reality, the rift cvreated by the curse, being in teh sense of time perception dimension, cursed, and one who are in the infinity, no sensee o ftime perception dimension, it is wise just to say exactly what it is.

One slept with the snake, and that snake is kind of dumb. That means one can trick it into thinking they died, and make it go away. After it goes away one has to start real live over, meaning, their "intuition" (eyes" are restored so they have to learn what life is like with eyes.

So one has to mindfully kill their self literally.

In the movie fight club the remedy is demonstrated at the end of the movie.

The main character takes a gun and put it in his mouth and pulls the Trigger.

Absolute suicide attempt, but the bullet missed him or went out his neck, his alter ego Brad pit saw him "suicide " himself, and was convinced it was real death, so that alter ego died, but the main character did not, so he tricked the snake off his back.

One more example:

In the movie, dances with wolves, at the beggining the main character is depressed from a wound, and ride his horse across confederate lines, and the general on the union side says "Looks like as suicide"

The main character rode his horse in front of the confederates and they fired but missed him, so he turned around and this time, he rode he held his hands in the air to say "I submit, I fear not, I absolutely give up" No one shot him, they all missed, but his hypothalmaus doesn't know that, it just think that person, died.

So that being applied the remedy, and then went to live with the Indians, because one who applies the remedy has such strong telepathy, they cannot live with the ones with the curse, which was "the white man", so he went to live with the ones who never got the number, or the non scribes, the tribes.

The way I understand how it works is, once a being with the curse hears the remedy and understands how it is applied they have this concept called "Their fate is sealed" meaning they have to answer for not applying the remedy once they hear it. uncertain what the consequence might be.

Abraham Theory Part 2

"So perhaps the hypothalamus is perhaps our weakest link in our body because you can get it to give you a perceived death signal and then not act on that signal and become a ghost people. perhaps because in society we are faced with aspect that are perhaps less than reputable then we have to look at the reality that this weakness could perhaps be taken advantage of. perhaps There is one guy i know that took a shotgun and shot himself under the chin and the angel was too shallow so he just achieved a swift face life so to speak but perhaps the actual act of doing that the actual trigger pull would be the trigger that the hypothalamus would have said don't do that or I will think you are a ghost. Perhaps you missed his book called "how to become a ghost minus a face." Be cautious of anyone who thinks everything is funny, in reality the only thing that funny is the wiring in their cortex and what inhabits it perhaps, perhaps. So if you look at these following marks you can detect certain emotions in them - "I dont wanna know" or "I do wanna know" I former suggests fear and the latter suggests curiosity. If its you or me its gonna be you, and if its us or them its gonna be them. Those who give up their rights for security have already punished themselves to the full extent. As the people you associate iwth inc5reases what you have to say means less and less; Our leader has 300 million friends. The rule thats important to consider is dont deal with an overt situation covertly. Anyone you see on the world stage is essentially attempting to do that, and so they perhaps are just saying "look how much i regret it." if anything at all. Following that rule "no overt against a covert situation" may not save you or keep you safe but It will give you a rule to follow. So what is religion? Perhaps religion is nothing more than axpects attempting to explain how to be ghost people Genisis 15:1 is the first attempt at suggesting the flaw in humans. Genisis 15:1 'And the Lord said to Abraham "fear Not" That is showing the flaw in humans. If your hypothalamus gives you a death signa and you dont run then you become a ghost. Jesus observed this in Luke 17:33. perhaps in a lab rat experiemnt if all the lab rats act the same there perhaps is no need for the experiment anymore, perhaps. The main reason why getting the hypothalamus to give you the death signal and then ignoring and thus becoming a ghpost people is a weakness is over a period of time it acts like laughing gas. This means generally speaking the ones who have applied it are of no use because they just sit there and laugh. The ones who take things seriously are perhaps taking them too seriously. The ones 23who havent applied it and did get the tree of knowledge reading writing and math a "discimination aginst right hemisphere" - Roger Sperry are essentially in a coma relative to the fact they believe society is what it appears to be without factoring in the ghost people. The ghost people aspect would be the indicator that they are in fact way out of touch with reality if they think there arent millions and millions of them all around them at all times . So that would be an indicator question. Aks someone "did you klnow therte are ghost people alla round because someone found out if you get the hypothalamus to give you the death signal by watching a scary movie alone in tghe dakr that our minds flaw is if you dont run for the light switch it will believe you died and you become a ghost people.?"

If they say "yes" then they are in touch with reality. If they say no then they are either in a comma or they are hiding because they somehow believe that's "bad or Good" . They would hide for either example. If they thought it was good to be a ghost people they may hide and if they thought it wasw bad to be a ghost people they may also hide. Some ghost peop;le are reacting to the shock of being a ghost person. Some ghost people are not reacting to the shock of being a ghost person . Nearly no ghost people are acting like ghost people/. If you expose 10 soldiers to combat some of them may act differently than others. So perhaps you can see why Abraham story with Isaac, him using this "flaw" in people to become ghost people was so important relative to the world. Its like that story of Frankenstein where the people chase Frankenstein down the mountain because the people saw the ghost people as scary or different. That's not real that's called hollywood. Thats like when Lestat in the Interview with the vampire listens to a tape of Louie and says "Louie Louie always whinning." Thats halarious but its also shows a decent point. There was a soldier who saw combat and obviously faced his fear, and he came back home and couldnt adjust and fell into a strong of events that cost him his pulse. So the reality of civilization would say "he had ptsd" and died. So you may read that and not factor in ghost people and think 'I'm aware of reality." when you factually are not even close. Factually perhaps because Abrahams story is not translated properly soldier/ghost person could not acquire proper attention. He perhaps was still in full blown shock after "facing his fear" , becoming a ghost person chasing machine gun nests in combat. I assure you if certain aspects that you think would tell you these things havent yet They are never going to. Like your leader , is in shock they wont tell you, you perceived leader in your vecinity wont tell you. They make up senarios in their mind because the titanic is sinking (planet). There was a decent ghost people he was a young kid perhaps early 20's and he was in a video and he was playing with a cat(right hemipshere) and he said" I like cats" and then he jumped in a explosive laiden truck and drove into some "enemy" position and blew himself up. He should be remebered because he was a decent ghost people. Its mainly an example of shock and trauma and partly as Buddha suggested "contact". baby ghost people are very impressionable just like a baby person is. Someone maybe did things to make him think he was something "a cat"(right brain dominate) but thats just relative agiain to the importance of the Abraham story perhaps. You make a ghost p[erson by getting the hypothalamus to give the death signal and then do0nt run and this flaw in people makes the mind think the person died.Perhaps one thing to consider is, the comment "wise like a child". In a situation of absolute delusion, their perhaps cannot be any adults smarter than a child. If someone uses reading writing and math to make children "delusional" by decimating against a hemisphere, then the only intelligent people , not ghost people but people , are the children. In many ways thats perhaps absolute reality. Perhaps everyone ghost people and real people are at the mercy of someone other than children. So in reality who would rather be in charge: A people, a child or a(decent) ghost people? One issue is, until Abrahams idea become reality, the titanic(earth) is going to sink, perhaps. Another way to look at it from a none time point of view is, Abrahams plan is in many books but refusal to acknowledge it is why the titanic(planet and everything on it) is sinking. Its like the commercial where there is an Indian standing by the road of an interstate and someone in a car drives by and throws trash out at his feet and the Indian has a tear rolling down his face. The interstate is the earth, the trash is what is occurring on the earth, and the Indian is a child or a decent ghost people. A decent ghost people is one who has not allowed the laughing gas aspect of being a ghost to overcome them. The Indian saying goes "Adults are just borrowing the planet from their children." When I detect intelligence relative to civilizations authorities I will come to your house and remind you. As a friend of mine recently said in a speech "ultimately inhabited". Do not go into application of this "fear not" aspect thinking it will save you, or its a requirement or something bad will happen if you don't. Its your choice. You can. Its something that's manageable and also possible at this day and age of advanced technology. Today we are only 5400 years behind where Abraham was. So now you have been informed of some information that's outside the realms of society. Perhaps they should have just called it hot fudge sundae from McDonalds then no one would assume they are full of shit. Like in the movie matrix where neo says "this is not where it ends this is where it begins." The Abraham story is where it begins and everything else are just aspects in some dream where somehow the titanic misses the iceberg and is floating on cotton candy, perhaps. Because of the mental state the education has put you in its important perhaps to use patterns. Pattern 1: The Abraham and Isaac fear not equals ghost people, pattern. Think carefully has anyone ever told you that and since the answer will certainly be no, then you can see, that as a pattern in the "system" they don't want you to know. That leads to the next pattern. "they don't want you to know that because then you would know there are ghost people" then that leads to the next pattern "They don't want you to know there are ghost people because then you will know most are "ultimately inhabited" And now perhaps consider the comment "the good things in life come free. DO not worry about the control aspects reading this they seem to have certain belief systems that will not allow them to entertain certain "comments" , perhaps. I advise playing command and conquer 3 on brutal setting until you start to elevate your strategy aspects before application of the Abraham idea. These are some of your brothers and sisters that died as a result of the educational . Someone said if you can say anything nice don't say anything at all. Perhaps I should tell you what I really think.

Motto for the day: Abrahams Idea is better.

Alyssa Morgan (12) hanged herself after she was bullied for being bisexual.

Benjamin Bowling (12) died by hanging.

Simon Murski (12) allegedly took his own life. - Unknown

Perhaps what is happening in this place is perhaps as one person suggested when asked on a radio station asked "Is it that bad?" and the person he interviewed said "It's much worse." Perhaps to sum up his explanation it could just be near absolute mind control. Perhaps there is no place to look where there isn't absolute mind control happening. Perhaps it is not a problem but simply an invitation and perhaps an invitation you certainly do not want to accept because perhaps the road to mind control starts with the acceptance of the invitation. For example the invitation to attend school as a child. Luckily for us we dodged that one, perhaps. Perhaps that is what this situation is all about. Perhaps if you attended school the mind control plan has perhaps already worked. Perhaps to think you are above or below that, is perhaps another plan of the mind control. Perhaps if you are happy about that or angry about that, that is perhaps also a plan of the mind control perhaps. Perhaps it is understandable why some people suggest to just "look directly into the sun" or as the song goes "They see you having fun just lying in the sun tell them that you like it this way." On another level some have just played command and conquer on brutal level since they were 18 and so all of this "scary, danger, worry" appearance is like home to them. Some perceive making plans and considering ideas are dangerous, so make plans and consider ideas and perhaps already are aware it may not matter as much as it seems considering the situation. Perhaps one thing to consider is that there may be people who are far less capable and far less intelligent than you are, yet that does not seem to be a factor. It seems perhaps that the ones who are "most intelligent" are walking on thin ice and walk carefully and ones who are trotting through the jungle making lots of noise with little regard for attention they garnish seem to do just as well. Do not "wake up" if you do not want to. Do not do something about this invitation if you do not want to. On another level. Do if you do. There is a song that goes "The necromancer is already aware, of three helpless invaders trapped in his lair." In that song in the end the three invaders win. Optimistic artists is perhaps a paradox. So perhaps in a situation of absolute mind control there is only options. Of course with options there are dyslectics. Meaning if someone wants you to eat a sandwich and they may ask do you want a ham sandwich or a egg salad sandwich. No matter what option you pick , they option giver wins. Another way to look at it is, making it appear like you only have two options when you really have many options. Of course they may also give you so many choices you cannot decide what one to pick. There is one person who is a trooper Matthew Errico. He was young and his story goes, he injured his back and started taking opiates and that's how he woke up and then he became aware of the situation and went to a gun range and didn't miss. He left a picture on his facebook account of himself pointing at his nose, as in "he knew" what was going on. This is the world of ghost people. Wake up is relative to "wake" as in funeral wake. "getting the hypothalamus to give you a death signal and then not running but just standing your ground achieves it. Watching a movie in the dark alone should be enough to achieve this, but perhaps you may have to go as far as going to a cemetery at night alone and meditating, as the Buddhists suggest. perhaps it is an option as the MASH songs goes. "Suicide is painless, it bring on many changes, and you can take or leave them if you please."

Jack fell down and broke his crown(left world/mans world(order giver))and Jill(order follower) came tumbling after.(Both work in a team to mess with L/R minded people. But if they get to high as far as view point they can't take it, they both are unable to do what grey can do and thus that is why they dislike grey) Black and white rule because grey should rule but that would be (logical,reasonable,proper, correct, right, normal)

"Festus decides to stick around Dodge. Little is known of his past life except that he has been a trapper and a laborer on the Transcontinental Railroad and that he cannot read. He repeatedly states that he refuses to learn to read, because he has no way of knowing whether what he reads is true. He calls Marshal Dillon "MATH-hew."

The Grand Old Duke of York

The Grand old Duke of York he had ten thousand men
He marched them up to the top of the hill
And he marched them down again

And when they were up, they were up
And when they were down, they were down
And when they were only halfway up
They were neither up nor down

Relative to if they are not hot or cold they are lukewarm

When they were up (up is left, cold) =(heaven) happy with how "things" are relative to the world of the GP

"when they were down" is hot (Hell) angry with how things are in world of gp

And middle is lukewarm, meaning sound mind and absence of slavery

So up is slave driver and down is slave and lukewarm is individual

And so individual is the odd man out because the slave master uses his slaves to harm lukewarm of sound minded because if too many sound minded GP arrive then it would be a symptom of returning to how things were before reading writing and math... no slave/slave master aspects. So up is heaven, happy (inability to judge or inability to think for ones self), down is hell (angry at the situation as a whole angry they are slaves to left (they can judge or they can think for their self but they are slaves) sound minded or middle is an individual but they are assaulted on both sides because left and right or heaven and hell, dislike them because they threaten the slave, slave master situation, so with the slave slave master agreement, its like saying I'm not your slave or your master and so the slaves and the slave master do not know how to deal with that person, so they are their enemy. Its relative to the comment in the movie platoon where Barnes the battered and rough platoon commander said there is the way things are and the way things ought to be, the way things are is master and slave world relative to society, and the way things ought to be is individual and a person that can think critically, a person that is not a mindless zombie, if your always the slave master you are a mindless zombie just like a slave is, a slave master is a slave to their slaves. Another way to look at it is a slave master has all the stress and the slave has no stress but also the slave master can have no stress and the slave may have all the stress but this indicates it's a imbalanced mindset.

"The individual is handicapped by coming face-to-face with a conspiracy so monstrous he cannot believe it exists. The American mind simply has not come to a realization of the evil which has been introduced into our midst. It rejects even the assumption that human creatures could espouse a philosophy which must ultimately destroy all that is good and decent."- Hoover

The individual is handicapped = the world is this slave and slave master aspect and so an individual is all alone relative to the quote by ? "we are all alone and we are dead"

"evil which has been introduced into our midst." = mental imbalance, one is a slave or a slave master and that is against everything in moderation. People tend to say everyone is good or whatever but that is not real, the slave and slave master aspect means they are mentally imbalanced and that also relative to insanity... and also relative to critical thinking. Although because it is also an aspect only relative to ghosts the living are basically no help at all they are kind of like asleep mentally, and then there are ones who "wake up but they are "individual is handicapped" so they wqalk around acting like they are not aware of what is happening becaus4e mentally they are "in shock" because this "must ultimately destroy all that is good and decent." Is the goal of the slave and slave master aspect. Destroy anything that is "good" or any person that is "sound minded" or anyone who is a critical thinker. Do nothing means you are agreeing to live in insanity and doing something is insane because the ones you would fight against are already monsters and insane and enjoy the fight , they have no crtitical thinking aspects, so for example if you started explaining this and they the slave master tells his slave to take you out, who exactly is going to address that? No one, all forms of protection are in face a part of the slave slave master aspect. So this "the evil which has been introduced into our midst." Means the police rtyhe army the judges and the lawyers are all "in on it" but only to the degree , they cant do anything about it becaus4e if they try the slaqve and slav4e master will take ca5re of them and "no one cares" because if they did carte they wo0uld be taken out. And so after enough people are taken out , no one standsw up to that any7mpolre, so in reality the onl6y thing left to do is ignore it, ignorance, pretend its not happening, very much like the gas chambers in world war 2, the people who lived near the concentration camps said"I didn't know that was happening" and so they are off the hook, relative to the quote by asomof "your ignorance is as good as my knowledge" So if a person says the edcuatip0n harms the mind and may kill the chuild because irt alters their percept9ion, tha5t fact is equal to saying "I wasn't awqar4e that was the case" So this creates a place wher4e being "stupid" "ignorant" "dumb" acting, is safe and being smart , standing up to injustice, is stupid. Stupid is smart and smarty is stupid. That's what one would call perhaps the ultimate r4evers34e thing, or that's what hell is. Doing good and treating people well and protecting the innocent is seen as evil , and not protecting the innocent and not protecting children is good. = "espouse a philosophy which must ultimately destroy all that is good and decent." Its relative to the concept, "only 6the good die ypou ng" which means igf you are old age or middle aged, then you are stupid, ignorant and uncareuing, and if you car and you are smart, you are gonna be dying young. So you look oyut at the world and think of all the people you perceive are smart or caruing and they aren't, and the proof you have is the fact they are still alive. Reality is the like the guy who was elected sheriff of a town in Mexico and he said he is going to take on the drug cartels and wnet around and shook hands with people at the town meetings and then he left to go back home and he pulled in the driveway and the cartels filled him with lead. There is no "justice" becaus4e the ones who attempt to get justice are eliminated because the goal in the system is not justice it is

- "a philosophy which must ultimately destroy all that is good and decent." This thing,

"Gen 1:26 And God said, Let us make man in our image," is a seriously wicked mother fucker. And so if a person tries to relative to the "serpent" aspect this is left brain, no emotions and no caring, just cold logic, and so that is how everyone becomes left brained because if they do care, and they so try to get justice they get killed, and so all you have left is left brain uncaring, or ignorance, or happiness all the time, its like if you show emotions like crying you will let them know you care, and they do like to see that, relative to the comment “and Jesus wept”, means Jesus cared, and so that indicated he was right brain or had some caring in him. And so you see some groups that are anti civilization and are labeled terrorists, you just have to reverse that and that is what they really are, because good = bad and bad = good, justice = injustice and injustice = justice = good.

Injustice and not caring is good and justice and caring is evil. Even after reading that one may start to feel the need to silence their emotions or caring to be safe, and not get involved and that of course is what the “serpent” is, a mindset of only being concerned about living or everything is secondary to living.

This thing, “Gen 1:26 And God said, Let us make man in our image,” is a seriously wicked mother fucker. So if you hear “god is dead” that means caring is dead, or indifference is King. Lying is also considered good because well you just read the reality of the situation, and like so many you perhaps will not do one thing about it, or even consider doing something about it and thus “the God” in you is dead.

9/8/2015 7:11:28 PM – bonding with machines such as computer could perhaps be explained in a equation

P = person

T = Time spend on computer

S = Substance

Bond

$P + T + S = B$

In short if the aspects the machine provides the person are perceived to be more important than the substance provided by say parents or friends then the bond will be achieved. The down side of course is a person that bonds with the computer sacrifices his relationships.

“Hey, diddle, diddle, The cat and the fiddle, The cow jumped over the moon. The little dog laughed To see such sport, And the dish ran away with the spoon.”

The cat(right brain) and the fiddle(creativity/arts/music)

The cow jumped over the moon

The cow(a gp with information, full of information, cows can be milked(of information))

the moon(sun(dont see anything) and moon(see's things but keeps it secret or is aware and discussesw it))

So if someone got attacked in acrowd, the (sun people) would say "I didnt see a thing" and the moon poeople would say what they saw) dog laughed - Dog = left and laugh = no emotions. So left is the slqave and slave maaster group and they laigh at everything and thats a symbol or no judgment or such extreme fear everything is funny, no complaints and everythingf is "good":

A cat = right and dog = left cow = middle or both or two horns, so the cow would be aware of mor ethings than the cat (right) or the dog(left) becqause the cow uses both hemispheres where as the cat generally uses rightht and dog generqally us4es left so the "dogs" tend to be order takersw and giversw without q1uestions becaqus4e they are lacking the "emotipo0nal" aspect to question orders. So perhaps questioning ordersw or questioning things is essentially a sy,mptom of emotions. With no emotipomns a person in the left and a slave stat3e wpould be valuable because no matter what is asked of them they wou;ld carry out. So to aq slav4e mastert they are valuable but in general they are mindless drones or zomebies, they will do whateve5r you say for them to do no matter what it is. So in some respects they are the ones who most 8in need or "help" because they do not have the emotional aswpects to "question" authority. The right on the othe5r hand may have to many emotiolns at times and look like "cry babies" tpo 6tghe left who eszsentially have no emotions. So an event like people killing whal4esw on the beqach for sport or people destroying natureal resources or devenstaing wars, the right may be very sade because o9f this and the left may laqugh at them being said and say why are you sad, because4 the left essentially is devoid of "feelings". So in a fasist dictatorship the "l4eft" is most valuable and the "right" with emo0yions to question authority is least valuable. And so the edcuation in part favors left brain and so it makes a soci3ety of "unfeeling" drones or zombies, and anyone who has feeling would immediatlty stick out in the situation, and be deemed, "complainers" like in some religions its a sin to complain, and thats saying generally perhaps its a sin to have "feelings". Or right hemipshere. In a facist staqt4e irt is a sin to question things and thart is relat9ive to having feelings and that is relatove to right hemoisphere. So in a situatio0n where, being kind and respectful of pother left brain people would swtick out and right barin peopole would fit in, and "cows" that are a bit of both would seem to be "2wishy wqashy" when in reality they are just "san4e" people in a situation where "insanity" to much left or to much right, is desired.

As Left increases society destroys the planet faster as Right increases we destroy the planet slower

L + destruction of planet and ourselves = fast

R + destruction of planet and ourselves = slow

So the motto seems to be push it to the limit. It would be like cutting off your arms and then see if you can live like that and if so, call it what doesn't kill us makes us stronger

So it's the same on a planet wide level, society is flourishing so the way we treat the planet and other people must be correct, logic. Short sighted logic. It would be like looking out the window and seeing it raining and not being aware it's the start of a huge rain and flood, but just saying, it only been raining a little, because you look away after looking outside a short moment. Whatever we are doing must be working because (insert false reading or measures that someone assumes is a marker of success)

I have 10 dollars in my wallet and so I must be doing something proper.

This could be reduced to, I am not dead so I must have mastered living. I am not dead so I must be a great person. I am not dead so whatever I have done up to this point, must be correct. But in reality none of that means what it suggests.
